14th Annual End of Summer PITA Shoot Coming

Hi folks, it's that time tered shoot of the sea- 16 & 17. This is our year with 3 shooting Three rounds of dou- singles, doubles and two days. This will re- make this event suc- help from all of you, worked a PITA event before. There are still things that you can do. The more people that show up, the easier it is for all of us. We barely had enough help at the June shoot. There was a very small turn- out of volunteers at that shoot and some workers had very little re- lief. Please come and help. The club needs you.

again. Our last regis- son is on August 15, largest shoot of the events each day. bles on Friday and handicap the other quire a lot of help to cessful. We will need even if you have not Please call me at 253-939-1406 or e-mail at tmdukes@msn.com if you can help any of the days. The most help is usually needed on Saturday.

Thanks,

Hunter Sight In Days Coming

The dates for the 2014 hunter sight in days have been set for Sep- tember 27, 28, October 1, 4, 5, & 8. On the Wednesdays it will run 6PM to 10PM and on the weekends it will run 9AM to 6PM. Re- member that the $10 fee applies to both members and non- members. Extra help would be appreciated on these dates so if you have some time come on out and help out.

President's Corner

For July

Hello gun club members it is now July and the middle of summer is here finally. I hope that everyone has had a chance to get out and enjoy our gun club while the weather has been nice. The weather has been hit and miss at times, just like my trap shooting. I am hoping that by the time that you read this. That summer is finally here to stay for a while.

A good portion of our gun club trap shooters will be at Evergreen Sportsman's gun club this month, representing our gun club at the PITA Washington state shoot and the PITA Grand Pacific shoot. The last several years our club has been very well represented at the two major shooting competitions. Good luck to all of our members who will be shooting down there.

It is nice to have Nelson back as caretaker, and he sure has made the gun club look nice in the short time that he has been back. If any of you see him when you are coming to or leaving the gun club. Please take a few minutes to stop and let him know that he is doing a good job. A little thank you will go a long ways.

Most of us take pride in our club looking nice. For any of you that have volunteered at our PITA shoots. I hope that you have had the pleasure of someone telling you how nice our gun club looks. I have heard it many times over the years that I have been a member here. And I will tell you the compliments make me proud to be a member here, and it should make you proud too. Yes, we have a caretaker, but a good portion of how our club looks comes from our work parties and our members who take the time to volunteer at those work parties. Each and every one of our club members deserves the credit for how nice our gun club looks. Thank you all.

By now we have had our second summer Multi-Plex shoot. But by the time that this is published the results will not be posted yet on the PITA web site. But the results from our June shoot are posted. And I can tell you that 55% of the shooters, who shot the June Multi-Plex shoot, won some money from the Lewis purse which is part of the entry fee to shoot the Multi-Plex shoots. That included one club member who shot his very first registered PITA targets at the June Multi-Plex and another club member who had not shot any registered targets in eight years.

Please take the time to thank Kevin Barrows for the fantastic job that he is doing as editor of our newsletter. He has been publishing the best news letter that I have seen published for our gun club.

We are finally getting some work done to the two planter areas in front of the club house. This has been a very long and slow process for one reason or another. But finally the top soil has been delivered, lifted over the fence and spread out. Ground cover will be planted very soon. Perhaps some of you can remember that when this project first started. There was just a bunch of Scotch Broom growing there. The Scotch Broom was removed. Then through a donation of the landscape blocks the retaining wall was built and the soil back filled behind the block wall. Now we have the top soil in place and hope to have the area planted soon.

Black Diamond Gun Club General Membership Meeting Minutes June 18, 2014

The general membership meeting of BDGC was called to order by Andy Newell at 7:00 pm. The Pledge of Allegiance was the first order of business.

Officers/Trustees/Members present:

Larry Gardner, Merv Vincent, John Griffin, Pat Manyon, Marilyn Manyon, Phil Erickson, Marion Dukes, Neal McLemore, Cork Carpenter, Andy Newell and Cody Ballard.

Secretary's Report:

Cork Carpenter moved to accept Secretary minutes. Andy Newell seconded, Motion carried.

Treasurer's Report:

Andy reports that the balances are in some order and he is getting it squared away. Quick-Books will work with our system.

Committee/Member Reports:

Pat Manyon:

Palmer Coking and Coal – Pat met with Bill at Palmer Coking and Coal and Bill said he will put together a proposal for board review. Property taxes will change. Discussion brought up some questions to research:

Do we have to improve 5 acres in the next 5 years?

Does some development have to take place on the property to satisfy grant requirements with Rec & Conservation grant within the next 10 years?

How many acres need to be improved and what is the time frame?

Marion Dukes:

June PITA Shoot -.The Caldwell targets were $9.94 w/shipping cost per case w/pallets. We threw 23,720 targets. A breakdown of costs for the shoot is attached.

August PITA Shoot – The August shoot will be for three days, 8/15/16 & 17. We definitely need to recruit more volunteers for running the three events each day. Our scorers worked all day, we had no reliefs to give them have a break. We also need to do a better job of squading so that the person at the end of a squad is not scheduled to be the first or second shooter on the next squad.

Grand Pacific PITA – We have started making a raffle basket for the Grand event at Evergreen starting the 20th of July. Raffle tickets will be sold for $2.00 each, of which $1.50 comes back to our club. We already have a hand crocheted afghan in Seahawk colors, a Winchester wall hanging, a Black Diamond black hat, a knife that is engraved Black Diamond Gun Club with more items to be added.

John Griffin:

Hunters Ed – We had a successful Hunters Ed class of 37 students.

Memorial Garden – We talked at the last meeting about the plaque for the permanent pavilion structure that would state NRA's grant assistance in the building cost. John checked with the company that made the plaque for the Laura's memorial garden but the cost is prohibitive. The cost of an aluminum one is approximately $248. Marion said that SST has some black plastic, engraved plaques that they purchase at an award/trophy store by Costco in Covington. John said he will do some more research.

Bob Sadesk:

Rifle/Pistol Range

Target Stands – Thanks to members Larry Gardner, Marv Vincent, Alex Roeber and Bob Hankel for working on the target stands at the work party. We have received a check from the DEA. We are averaging an average monthly income of $1,500 from our law enforcement rentals.

Support Post – Thanks also to Kevin Barrows for helping me put an orange 4X4 post for support to the overhang-it is working well.

Range Improvements- DEA and WSP have been the main contributors with ideas for a designated range on the new property. A 300 yard range, three lanes wide, 12' X 300 yards would be a super practice range.

Merv Vincent:

Grants – The Deed of Rights has been signed, notarized and returned to Recreation and Conservation.

New Business:

Question was asked about an illegal alien handling and shooting at the Rifle and Pistol range. Should we include on the liability form the question "Are you a legal US Citizen"? Should we have an attorney look into this or ask NRA or check Washington state law?

Motion to adjourn the meeting was made by John Griffin, seconded by Cork Carpenter. Meeting was adjourned at 7:47 p.m. Next general meeting is scheduled for July 15th at 7:00 after the RSO meeting.

Respectfully Submitted,

Marilyn Mangon

Question: I want to challenge myself to become the best possible clay target shooter I can be. Where should I start, or what should I focus on first? From your experience... what advice can you give me to point me in the right direction?

Keys to Success

First of all, before we address the keys to successful clay target shooting, you'll need to determine at what level you're at with your shooting, and at what level you hope to achieve? Based on your choice, this will dictate the equipment needed, as well as the time, energy, effort, and expense you can expect to put forth in order to accomplish your goals. Basically, there are three levels of clay target shooters regardless of the game. Each level is unique in what it offers, and what the shooter may hope to gain or achieve from the experience. First, is the Sporting Level: At this level you'll find most of your club, league, and recreational shooters. Many upland bird and waterfowl shooters can be found at this level. They enjoy shooting for sport, fun, recreation, and socializing. Winning for these shooters can be as simple as posting a good score on the range, or bagging their daily limit in the field, all while having fun with good friends in the process.

Second, is the Competitive Level: At this level you'll find the serious clay target competitor. Whether it's Trap, Skeet, 5-stand, or Sporting Clays, these shooters just love to compete, and they are constantly working to improve their game. Winning is important, but it's certainly not everything. Continuously improving and perfecting their personal performance level is their main focus, but they do enjoy the close camaraderie and fun that comes along with it. Third, is the Championship Level: There are considerably fewer shooters at this level, and they are considered by most to be the best of the best. Striving for excellence is their primary focus, and maintaining this elite level of shooting can be all encompassing for most of them. To many, these shooters are considered professionals. Winning, and doing it consistently at the highest possible level, is extremely important to these shooters. Every tournament and event is taken very seriously, and every single aspect of their game is approached with consistency and a meticulous attention to detail.

If a shooter expects to be the very best he or she can be at any level, they'll need to embrace the attributes that NFL coaches have often referred to as the three "D's" for success. Whether its clay target shooting, or any other competitive activity for that matter, these attributes are viewed as the primary factors to being successful. The first is Desire! Unless you have that strong, burning desire to become the very best you can be, I can promise you, you won't achieve your fullest potential or fully accomplish your goals without first having that irrepressible desire to be the very best you can be. The second is Dedication! You must be willing to focus intently on each and every single aspect of improving your game. Even at times when it feels completely wrong, you need to stay-the-course, stay focused, and drill yourself repeatedly until you perfect or master whatever element of the game you're working on.

A key to this attribute is following the advice of your coach or instructor to the letter. Focus, and repetition on every detail is extremely important, and you'll need to do it again; and again; and yet again until you nail it. The third attribute is Determination! You'll need to meticulously "plan-your-work" toward improving and perfecting ever aspect of your shooting game, and then methodically "work-your-plan" piece by piece until it all comes together. Many dedicated hours are needed to be successful, and unless you are willing to commit the time, energy, effort, and expense needed to perfect and maintain your game, you'll never achieve that advanced level you're seeking, and certainly not the championship level. For me, the following quote pretty well sums it up as I continually work to master my shooting ability... "In striving for perfection, you'll achieve excellence" (Vince Lombardi).

After taking all of this advice into consideration... where do you start, and what are your next steps? First and foremost, be a student of the game. Learn all you can from the Top Guns; their articles, books, and videos, and start working on perfecting the basics and fundamentals required. At some point, you may determine that an adjustment, or upgrade in your equipment may be warranted. If so, choose wisely, with quality, safety, reliability, and versatility being the primary elements to consider. As you read and study all you can, don't hesitate to ask for some professional instruction or coaching to help you work through any issues or problems that may be keeping you from advancing. Above all, you must be honest and realistic with yourself, and always set your goals and objectives to be value-added, success-oriented, and attainable. It's going to take time... so be patient and don't get frustrated! Plan your efforts well, and be sure to keep your focus on quality rather than quantity when practicing and competing.

Over the years, I've known shooters from various levels, get so frustrated as challenges increase, that they give-up the game entirely, sell their guns, and move on to something different. They failed because they were not being honest or realistic with themselves as to the level of commitment required to achieve the success they were expecting. They may have had the desire in the beginning, but as they advanced, a lack of continued focus, dedication, and determination kept them from accomplishing their goals. Obviously, all three attributes must be in equal play in order to be successful. Always remember, the level of your success will be determined in equal portion to the commitment you're willing to put forth! For most shooters, a little extra effort applied to the basics and fundamentals, coupled with a modest application of the three "D's", keeps their shooting game challenging, rewarding, and fun. Beyond that... whatever advanced level you hope to achieve is entirely up to you.

Thanks to the Black Diamond shooters and supporters that have stepped up to cook our Wednesday night dinners. We are having some wonderful meals. Our schedule is:

- 1st Wednesday - Vicky Wagner
- 2nd Wednesday - Marilyn Pedersen
- 3rd Wednesday -
- 4th Wednesday - Al Hope
- 5th Wednesday - Jim Bradbury

There are opportunities to be a fill-in cook when one of our regular cooks can't make it. If you would like to be on our Go To Cooks list you can either; leave your name and number with Sharon or put your name in the Secretary's box hanging by the file cabinets to the side of the front counter and Marilyn will give you a call.

Plan on coming out to shoot and have dinner!
